

Invitation from Frihedsforum, Denmark in collaboration with Alda, Sweden:

Landscape as a Multidimensional Organism

Workshop with Marko Pogačnik

April 25-28, 2013 in Copenhagen – Spejdercenter Holmen

Workshop in English Language

The geological landscape is complemented by invisible patterns of life forces and elemental beings. How can its invisible dimensions be perceived? How do they transform in the condition of the complex city structures? Copenhagen area takes part in that aspect of the Europe's organism that can be compared with the throat chakra of the human body. How can the role of the throat chakra be experienced within the Copenhagen region? Which are its organs and power places? Do they function well, or do they need some touch of a healing ritual? Marko Pogačnik has developed proper tools for this purpose based upon the principle of art.

Marko Pogačnik lives in Šempas, Slovenia. Has worked in Conceptual Art and Land Art which he later combined with spiritual ecology called "geomancy". His books in English include: Turned Upside Down, Touching the Breath of Gaia, Nature Spirits & Elemental Beings, Sacred Geography, Gaia's Quantum Leap.

Practicalities

- Location in the heart of Copenhagen with trips to surroundings
- Workshop provides vegetarian food and accommodation in 2-4 bed rooms
- Start at 19:00 on April 25 – conclude at 14:00 on April 28
- Cost including workshop fee, accommodation and food: DKK 2450,-/€ 328,-

On April 24 at 19:30 Marko Pogačnik gives a lecture (DKK 100/€ 13):

"Earth Changes Reflected in the Human Body"

in Kulturhus Indre By, Charlotte Ammundsens Plads 3, Copenhagen K

Registration

Prior registration to the workshop is mandatory - please register by e-mailing frihedsforum@mail.dk. Early registration is recommended. The number of participants is limited and participants are registered on a first come, first served basis.

www.frihedsforum.dk/www.markopogacnik.com